An Ancient Story Of War, Updated By D.C. Students

Students in a D.C. Creative Writing Workshop present "Lysistrata" at Hart Middle School in Southeast Washington last week. At left are Rhia Hardman, left, as Lysistrata, David Brown as a magistrate and Angelica Pratt. At right are David and director Scott Sedar. The ancient play, in which the Athenian women go on strike to get the men to stop waging war, was rewritten and set in the District.
